“...And the Journey Begins” 23rd Annual National TSA Conference Held in Richmond

by Whitney Hawkins, Virginia TSA Secretary

Screaming dragsters, screaming youth, and screaming campaigns, such was Nationals 2001. If you missed the Technology Student Association’s National Conference in Richmond, Virginia this year, you definitely missed an exciting, jam-packed week!

Anyone who was there, can testify to grid-locked contests, amazing state pride, and fierce campaigns. Contestants competed for the top ten spots and hopefully one of the trophies in a wide array of categories from dragsters to public speaking, problem solving to flight endurance, technical design to SCI-VIS.

The most commonly heard phrase was definitely, “TSA, how do you feel?!” with the answering response being a thunderous “We feel good! Oh, we feel so good! Uh!!”

Perhaps the busiest people at the conference were the national officer candidates, who could frequently be seen scurrying around with campaign materials and mingling with the members.

I must say I’m proud to report that no matter which of the three I mentioned above (contests, state pride, or campaigning), Virginia TSA excelled over the rest! To start from the end with campaigning; our very own Morgan Maddox was in a heated race for Vice President, with his campaign slogan, “...the journey has begun, let it continue.” With his dynamic

Technosphere 2001, Returns to Richmond, Draws Over 1,000

by Stephen Blue, Virginia TSA Reporter

Technosphere 2001 was a fun filled weekend packed with exciting events. From dart boards to a new Executive Council, competitions to a student mixer, it has been declared a success.

Technosphere 2001, held April 27-29, drew over 1,000 participants from across the state. The Holiday Inn Kroger Center was the host hotel of the conference. The Kroger Center was a new location for the conference, which in years past had been held at the Holiday Inn Conference Center in Hampton.

State officers took the opportunity to raise funds for their community service project, the Red Cross. Each officer carried around a decorated container, asking for donations. The officer with the most money got to pie the officer who raised the least amount. Many officers used different tactics to try and avoid the pie—from mentioning it in their campaign speeches to playing music for people. Eventually, Morgan Maddox, 2000-2001 National TSA Sergeant-At-Arms, received a big pie in the face from top fund-raiser, Sarah Rafaly. Another fund-raiser for the Red Cross was the Dart Throw, held outside on Saturday. This popular event went quickly, when we ran out of balloons to pop! A Word From the President...

Doug O'Reagan

Hello, Virginia TSA! The 2001-2002 year is well underway, and has the look of a great one. With Technosphere 2001 and the national conference in Richmond wrapped up, we can all go back to the drawing board on our competitions and prepare for what's ahead.

Thanks to the members of the Virginia Conference Management Team for their hard work at Nationals this year. Of all the national conferences I've been to, this was by far the best, and I hope everyone else had a great time as I did.

Technosphere 2001, was held in Richmond for the first time in many years. It was also a huge success! Thanks to the 2000-2001 Executive Council for their hard work which made it the best conference, yet.

The New Officers' Workshop was held recently at Graves' Mountain Lodge in Syria, Virginia. Our state's executive council is already working hard. As a proof of their work, the first issue of the Virginia Scene for the 2001-2002 year is out!

This year's community service project for Virginia TSA is Habitat for Humanity. The executive council will be volunteering time and raising money. We hope that local chapters will too.

Finally, I have one last announcement. I will be moving to South Carolina in mid August. So, this is my last article as your Virginia TSA State President. The last two years have taught me invaluable lessons and changed me for the better.

I hate to go into good-bye clichés, but they really are all true. I would like to thank the Executive Councils of the last two years, all the advisors and alumni who have helped me, and most importantly and emphatically, the members of Virginia TSA. Thank you for the opportunities you've given me, thank you for electing me, and thank you for supporting me.

If anyone has any questions or comments about anything at all, feel free to contact me at oreagan60@hotmail.com. I hope to see you at Technosphere 2002 as your Immediate Past President, and wish you the best of luck in whatever the future brings you. Thank you, and good-bye, Virginia TSA.

State Officers Attend New Officers' Workshop

by Anne Ward, Virginia TSA Historian

If you would have peered into one of the windows at Grave's Mountain Lodge on the eighth, ninth, or tenth of June, you just might have seen the Virginia TSA Executive Council hard at work. To tell you the truth, the whole weekend wasn't all work and no play, but we did work hard on planning for the upcoming year for Virginia TSA.

We came across many tests during these three days. One of these tests was a Jeopardy game, we played to see how many of us read our executive council handbooks. Since we didn't have buzzers, we resorted to using the gavel and one of the symbol stands. Well to say the least, I'm surprised both are still fully intact.

Another test was to see if we could put ourselves in order from youngest to oldest without talking. The answer is no. There are too many fifteen-year-olds on our council to make this task possible without talking although we didn't mess up too many times. If you haven't already guessed it, most of our tasks were to help us work better as a team. The last of these activities was one in which we all had to close our eyes and President, Doug O'Reagan, had to direct us to pick up scattered items. Thanks to Reporter, Stephen Blue, we finished quicker than expected because he would just walk around and find things with his feet and pick them up and take them to Doug.

Now, don't think we had it that easy all weekend because we didn't. We had to assist our Treasurer, Adam Martin, in balancing the budget. We worked on a resolution brought up by Vice-President, JaPrince Carter. All of this activity kept Parliamentarian, Matt Walton, on his toes. We did a lot of planning for our national conference. We, also, planned for our regional fall rallies and spring fairs. We had to meet with our committees to make plans and discuss items of business that pertained to each of our committees. We also discussed things like the Virginia Scene and the Archives Record Book. This kept our Sergeant-At-Arms, Steven Gill, constantly out of his seat; handing out papers.

Handling business and doing leadership activities weren't the only reason the New Officers' Workshop was held. It was also held so the officers could get to know one another. To be honest, I didn't know half of the people in the room on Friday. Over the course of the weekend, I met and worked with everyone in doing some task.

We worked hard for three days for you, Virginia TSA, to help us on our journey, "To Achieve and Succeed." It was a fun and worthwhile experience in which all of us accomplished a lot, and set forth to do a lot more.

Valley Region

by Brittany Stansberry, President

Greetings Virginia TSA, from the Valley Region. We are looking forward to a productive year with the leadership and guidance of a highly motivated officer team; with Brittany Stansberry from Fort Defiance High School as President, Anne Ward from Fort Defiance High School as Vice President, Robyn Davis from Turner Ashby High School as Secretary, Blaire Hawkins from L. Downing Middle School as Treasurer, Matthew Ridgeway from Wilbur S. Pence Middle School as Sergeant-at-Arms, and Kristen Swanson from Stewart Middle School as Reporter.

So far, we have an exciting schedule of events planned for the upcoming 2001-2002 year. We will kick the year off with our New Officers' Retreat in August, where we will discuss and plan activities as an officer team and hopefully get to know each other better.

Our Fall Rally will be held September 22nd at James Madison University where we will also attend a football game. March 9th will be our Regional Fair at Blue Ridge Community College. We are foreseeing an exciting year for TSA in the Valley Region.

Tidewater Region

by Josh Clements, President

The Tidewater Region is off to a great start in the 2001-2002 school year. The new officers are as follows: President-Josh Clements, Vice President-Todd Newsome, Secretary-Lindsey Johnson, Parliamentarian-Chris Taylor, Historian-Thomas Rozelle, Sergeant-at-Arms-Landon Eng, Past President/State Reporter-Stephen Blue.

For the 2001-2002 year, the Regional Rally will be held on November 10 at Heritage High School in Newport News. The starting time will be at 8:00am. The upcoming Regional Fair will also held at Heritage High School. The date will be March 9 starting at 7:30am.

We would also like to give a special thanks to all of those people who helped out with the 2000-2001 Fair and Rally. It is a major goal for us to double attendance at these events this year.

Blue Ridge Region

by Tyler Martin, President

In the near future, I plan to fill my regional council and have at least three different schools on the council.

The Fall Rally will be held at Virginia Tech on November 3. We will hold the Spring Fair on March 2 at Covington High School with a snow date of March 9.

This year, I also plan to have a fundraising activity at our spring fair. This is what is happening so far in my region.

South Central Region

by Charlie Gilliam, President

This year the regional officer team and I are hoping and planning for a successful year. At the New Officers Workshop, we worked on Fall Rally plans. We will inform you of the finalized plans.

combination of leadership, attitude, and work ethic, Morgan won over the assembly and is now currently serving and representing the Nation and the great Commonwealth of Virginia as your National TSA Vice President!

Going on to state pride, Virginia really did us proud! We were the largest delegation present to stand at a whopping 121 delegates. When the Virginia flag was presented on stage in the first General Session, a deafening roar rose in the room from the throats of hundreds of Virginians, with the flag going offstage in a veil of state pride. The conference was held in Richmond this year, making us the home state. This Richmond Conference demolished all records on the number of students present, just as we did when the conference was here in 1992. The new record set, thanks to Richmond, is a mind-boggling 3,500 members in attendance.

thanks for a job well done. It was under Doug's leadership that the 2000-2001 Executive Council made and sold Virginia student designed pins at the State and National conference and created a national conference video. Further, as part of his leadership of the 2001-2002 executive council, the first issue of the Virginia Scene has been published ahead of schedule.

Good luck in your new journey, Doug. You have done an excellent job as the Virginia TSA State President. Thank you.

Virginia submitted a resolution to update the national website, which was overwhelmingly passed, despite opposition. The National Pin, designed by our very own Stephen Blue, was a hot seller, with the sales of over 1,000 pins. There are still some of the aesthetically pleasing pins available for sale at a minimal price of $3.00 each. Please contact tsa@vatsa.org for details. The pin shows where the conference was held written in scarlet, a white TSA emblem, and a golden 2001 with a green silhouette of the state and its emblem in the background, resting in a field of navy blue. This year, Virginia also was selling our brand new state pins, and I'm happy to report all of the remaining 480 "fighting cardinals" were sold, making the pin a collectable. Also, ten hours of raw footage was videotaped to be boiled down into a National Conference Video that Virginia will be selling. The National Conference video order form is online at www.vatsa.org. I don't believe there was a person in attendance who hadn't seen at least twenty representatives from our good state.

In the competitive aspect of the conference, Virginia shined like a diamond among slate. With ten national champions, and over 70 finalists, Virginia excelled in almost every contest. Even for those not bringing home a finalist pin or a trophy, outstanding effort and dedication was shown. My sympathy is with the judges who had to decide which of the competitors would be finalists and trophy winners.

So, as you can see, the 2001 National Technology Student Association was packed with triumph, competition, and good ol' hard work on everyone's part. This is not to say that the five days weren't fun. In fact, I personally can boast it was the best time I've ever had.

Archives Record Book Update

by Anne Ward, Virginia TSA Historian

The National theme for 2001-2002 is, "To Achieve and Succeed." Well TSA, I want to know what you have achieved and why that has helped you succeed.

Hi! I am Anne Ward, your State Historian. My job is to create an Archives Record Book. The Archives Record Book is a document that includes pictures and information about things that have occurred over the course of the year in our organization.

This Archives Record Book is an exciting challenge for me, but I am going to need lots of help. I need pictures! Pictures of your chapter advisors or alumni that have helped you achieve something. I want pictures of you and your chapter achieving or succeeding at something. I want pictures of Virginia TSA. Any picture you send, I will try to use.

I also need articles. I would like articles about your chapter's activities, advisor, and alumni. I want to know what makes your chapter special!

TSA wants to know how your chapter has achieved and succeeded. TSA also wants to know how you plan to keep on achieving and succeeding in the future. Everyone wants to know about you and your chapter and what they have done in the past, what they are doing now, and what they're going to do in the future.

This may sound hard, but it is not.

Just take some pictures and/or write an article and send them to me at:

Archives Record Book
c/o Virginia TSA
PO Box 9045
Petersburg, VA 23806
tsa@vatsa.org

Also, don't forget to label your pictures and articles. I need this information for pictures: name of chapter, what's taking place, where it is taking place, who's in it, and any other information you wish to include. For the articles, I need following information: the name of the chapter and the authors' name. I hope you all have a great year filled with achievement and success.

KEEP THE STATE INFORMED ABOUT YOUR CHAPTER!
